Judith Hockaday Travel Bursary

A generous donor has provided bursaries to support mature students from around the world travelling to Oxford to attend our postgraduate medical and health sciences courses.

1. To be eligible students must be both:
   a. Registered as an M.Sc., Postgraduate Diploma or Postgraduate Certificate student on one of the following programmes:
      i. Evidence-Based Health Care Sciences;
      ii. Experimental Therapeutics;
      iii. Health Research;
      iv. Paediatric Infectious Diseases;
      v. Surgical Science and Practice.
   and
   b. Resident in a less developed nation (defined as being included in either Group A or Group B of the “HINARI Eligibility” list at http://www.who.int/hinari/eligibility/en/).

2. Awards are towards the costs of travel to and from Oxford for the purposes of attending a course module (or in the case of Paediatric Infectious Diseases, a formal attendance requirement in Oxford, including the IIC Conference, Presentation or Examination).

3. Applications should be made in advance of travel being undertaken. They should be in writing (email is acceptable) and sent either to: Course Administrator, [Name of Programme], University of Oxford Department for Continuing Education, Rewley House, 1 Wellington Square, Oxford, Oxfordshire, OX1 2JA, United Kingdom; or to the email address listed under ‘Key facts/ Course contact’ of the relevant course web page. Applications should include:
   a. Applicant’s name and contact details, including bank account details;
   b. Course and module details, including module title (or for Paediatric Infectious Diseases the course component) and dates;
   c. Proof of residency in a HINARI listed country (e.g. a tenancy agreement, house insurance document);
   d. Evidence of the costs of the intended travel (e.g. flight booking document or quotation);
   e. A brief statement as to why the student is undertaking the course, and the grounds on which they are seeking financial support.

4. Applications will be considered by the Panel for Travel Bursaries for Postgraduate Medical and Health Sciences Courses. Funds are limited and there is no predetermined value of awards, but they will normally be for up to 75% of the travel costs. Eligible students may apply for further awards for subsequent modules (or in the case of Paediatric Infectious Diseases, attendance instances), but priority may be given to those who have not received this bursary previously.
